

Welcome to our new Committee members

We have positive news. Our council has grown with significant expertise.

Deon Augustyn, well known as a director at Western Shoppe, has stayed on as our Chairman. He has a very busy travelling schedule in the coming year. We are pleased to have the well respected Norman Hornby, owner of Crawford & Company, a claims management business with global networking expertise, join us and work alongside Deon. He also takes on the Treasury portfolio. Norman is known as an active breeding member with two SAW licensed stallions. He has horse contacts in Italy and imports from time to time.

Pieter Swanepoel comes onboard for the first time too. A director of PAS Attorneys which are commercial and franchise specialists, he will take on the technical legal side for us. Pieter is a great warmblood enthusiast and lives in Kyalami where he keeps his breeding mares. Our new Regional Representatives are Troy Kernick for KZN and Jaco Fourie for Free State and Northern Cape. Troy brings a wealth of knowledge as she lectures to matric in Equine studies at the Jockey Academy. She is an EQASA director and been the South African delegate at the annual IGEQ (International Group for Equestrian Qualifications) since 2011. She also breeds warmbloods. Jaco Fourie is well known to you all as a dressage rider at our top levels. He has great experience in breeding as he was part of the original that set up Callaho and its first auctions. He travelled to Europe a lot working alongside Ian Callendar-Easby. Today he lives in Bloemfontein. He has a stud called Aerion and specialises in dressage horses.

We say goodbye to our President, Deon Griessel

Deon Griessel has served on our council for many years. He became Chairman after Ernst Holtz retired.

Deon Griessel is stepping down due to work pressure. He has done a lot in guiding the SAWHS through legal cases such as the 6 year trade mark issue, where the SASHF wanted to trade mark some terms that included the word 'warmblood'.

He has travelled to Bloemfontein to meet with SA Stud Book to sort out recording problems. These were never fully resolved. The SAWHS then decided to apply to become a Self Registering Authority. In time this was modified to include other breeds and become a fledgling stand alone Horse Breeders Registering Authority.

Deon Griessel will continue as Chairman of the SA Federation of Horse Breed Societies.

The family have a stud called Schwaike situated in Midrand. They have a base of imported Dutch mares and two stallions licensed by the SAWHS.

The whole family compete in show jumping. Presently Theunis Griessel their younger son, is doing very well on their KWPN Indoctro/ Nimmerdor mare named Bogena which they have produced themselves. Sister Ingrid is producing KWPN Zafaan (Karandasj/ Voltaire) and is presently in 1m30.
